New York University has established a campus in Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates, and invites applications for several Assistant Instructor positions. We encourage applicants with experience in teaching, preferably at the undergraduate level, and in planning and conducting laboratory experiments in organic, physical and analytical chemistry. An M.S., B.S. or PhD with teaching and research experience in chemistry is preferred.

The instructors will support NYU Abu Dhabi's educational mission by instructing the laboratory courses that are part of the integrated science curriculum for all science majors at the University. The instructors prepare experiments, take part in departmental activities and responsibilities, and provide assistance with the preparation, development, instruction and assessment of laboratory courses and other instructional venues. The instructors should reinforce and adhere to safety and safeguarding protocols and maintain cleanliness of laboratories and workspaces.
