NYU Abu Dhabi is currently inviting applications for a full time non-tenure track position in Digital Humanities at the rank of lecturer to begin Fall 2016.

Areas of expertise in digital media and cyber culture should include social and other media, multimedia platforms, data preservation, development and program building, digital humanities tools and methods, quantitative, geospatial and qualitative data projects, digital publishing, and website creation. The successful candidate will teach courses in these areas as well as working with faculty and students in the arts and humanities in developing and designing their own or group digital projects within a broad range of scholarly subjects. The candidate will be able to make use of and develop the substantial resources available in the NYU Abu Dhabi Digital Media Lab.

We seek candidates with expertise in a range of industry-standard applications and languages, the ability to stay abreast of developments in these fast-changing areas, as well as the desire to work with specialists across the disciplines. The successful candidate will be able to offer evidence of successful collaborations of this kind. Candidates with a PhD in digital media and/or the humanities are preferred. This will be a one-year position with the possibility of renewal for a three to five year contract thereafter, at the rank of assistant professor.

Review of applications will begin February 1, 2016, and the position will be open until filled. Interested applicants should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g. student feedback, reference letters, etc.), and two syllabi for courses. Please visit our website at http://nyuad.nyu.edu/about/careers/faculty-positions.html for instructions and other information on how to apply. If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.dh.position@nyu.edu.

About NYUAD:
New York University has established itself as a Global Network University, a multi-site, organically connected network encompassing key global cities and idea capitals. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of over 15 research and study-away sites across five continents. Faculty and students will circulate within this global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems, both local and global.

In its sixth year, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are at once distinguished in their research and teaching. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. NYU Abu Dhabi’s highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering.
