NYU Abu Dhabi

New York University Abu Dhabi, a part of New York University’s global network, invites applications for faculty positions as professors of practice in biology. These positions place a strong emphasis on excellence in undergraduate education and are open to applicants at the rank of assistant, associate or full professor. We seek outstanding teachers in the life sciences who specialize in ecology and environmental science, population biology, evolution, genomics or neurobiology who also have research accomplishments and experience in guiding undergraduate research projects.

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University, a multi-site, organically connected network encompassing key global cities and idea capitals. The network has three degree-granting campuses - New York, Shanghai, and Abu Dhabi - complemented by 12 additional academic centers across five continents. Faculty and students will circulate within the network in pursuit of common research interests and cross-cultural, interdisciplinary endeavors, both local and global.

Entering its third year, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are at once distinguished in their research and teaching. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. NYU Abu Dhabi’s highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering.

The terms of employment are highly competitive and include housing and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend time at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching opportunities. Appointments can begin as soon as September 1, 2013, but candidates may elect to start as late as September 1, 2014.

Applications are due by November 1, 2012; however, applications received later will be reviewed until the positions are filled. Candidates should submit a curriculum vitae, statements of teaching and research interests (not to exceed three pages each), no more than three representative publications and three letters of reference in PDF format to be considered.
