FACULTY POSITIONS
Professor of Interactive Media – Multiple Positions
NYU Abu Dhabi

NYU Abu Dhabi is currently inviting applications for full time non-tenure track multi-year positions in the Interactive Media program, to begin Fall 2016. While technical fluency in computer programming and physical computing is a must, we are looking for someone who recognizes the aesthetic, cultural, and ethical implications of working with new technologies. Candidates must be able to continually engage with new tools and modes of expression and inspire students to do the same. We are looking for someone who will continually re-invent the curriculum and its integration into the NYUAD liberal arts experience as an ongoing part of their own research in interactive media.

The Interactive Media program is a multidisciplinary concentration formally housed in the Arts and Humanities Division of NYUAD, but has broad reach into Engineering, Science, and Social Sciences. The program’s mission is to foster the creative use of new technologies for communication and expression. We focus on experimentation and production both inside and outside the classroom. Classes are run in a workshop-like environment fostering active learning and encouraging discussion of concept, content and technique. Engaging with students in the program's lab space through project assistance and personal direction is also key.

As a rapidly growing program, applicants who can teach foundation classes in programming, physical computing, web technologies and digital design tools along with advanced production courses will be favorably considered. Advanced topics include, but are not limited to, game design, media for live performance, networking, user experience and design. A MFA, MPS or Ph.D. is required.

Experience in developing course materials is also required. Good interpersonal skills to collaborate with colleagues and actively interact with students in a multicultural education setting are highly desirable. Interested applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vita, a statement of teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching effectiveness and if possible, two syllabi for courses at different levels.

Review of applications will begin February 1, 2016, and the position will be open until filled. Due to the high volume of applications, only those selected for interview will be contacted. Hiring for this position is subject to final budgetary approval. Please visit our website at http://nyuad.nyu.edu/about/careers/faculty-positions.html for instructions and other information on how to apply. If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.im.position@nyu.edu.

About NYUAD:
New York University has established itself as a Global Network University, a multi-site, organically connected network encompassing key global cities and idea capitals. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of over 15 research and study-away sites across five continents. Faculty and students will circulate within this global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems, both local and global.

In its sixth year, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are at once distinguished in their research and teaching. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. NYU Abu Dhabi’s highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering.

EOE/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled