FACULTY POSITIONS
Biology
New York University Abu Dhabi

New York University Abu Dhabi, a part of New York University’s global network, invites applications for faculty positions (open rank, tenure or tenure-track) for appointments as faculty in biology. We particularly encourage applications from candidates with research interests in computational systems biology, genetic and chemical genetic networks, and neuronal and developmental systems.

Candidates will be expected to have or develop active research programs and to participate in the division’s teaching activities at the undergraduate and graduate level.

Successful candidates will find a vibrant research and teaching environment that includes supportive and highly motivated colleagues, access to significant resources, a competitive startup package, and broad opportunities for interdisciplinary research across the different science and engineering areas being developed at NYU Abu Dhabi as well as across campuses of the NYU system.

Successful candidates will also have access to state of the art core facilities that include deep sequencing, robotics, advanced microscopy, and High Performance Computing facilities with more than 6400 computing cores and a peak performance of 70 TFLOPS.

The terms of employment are highly competitive and include housing and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend time at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching opportunities. Appointments can begin as soon as September 1, 2014, but candidates may elect to start as late as September 1, 2015.

Applications are due by November 25, 2013; however, applications received later will be reviewed until the positions are filled. Candidates should submit a curriculum vitae, statements of teaching and research interests (not to exceed three pages each), no more than three representative publications and three letters of reference in PDF format.
