Bob Prieto appointed PM World Global Advisor

American construction industry executive named honorary PMWJ advisor

7 September 2020 – Dallas, TX, USA – PM World has announced the appointment of Bob Prieto as an honorary global advisor for the PM World Journal and Library. Bob is chairman and CEO of Strategic Program Management LLC., an independent consultancy based in Jupiter, Florida. He is a Fellow of the Construction Management Association of America (CMAA) and a member of the prestigious National Academy of Construction in the USA.

Mr. Prieto previously served as a senior vice president of Fluor, one of the largest engineering and construction companies in the world, and as Chairman at Parsons Brinckerhoff, one of America's largest engineering firms. He is a member of the ASCE Industry Leaders Council, and member of several university departmental and campus advisory boards.

Bob served until 2006 as a U.S. presidential appointee to the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) Business Advisory Council (ABAC), working with U.S. and Asia-Pacific business leaders to shape the framework for trade and economic growth. He previously served as both Chairman of the Engineering and Construction Governors of the World Economic Forum and co-chair of the Infrastructure Task Force formed after September 11th 2001 by the New York City Chamber of Commerce. Bob is currently an Independent Member of the Shareholder Committee of Mott MacDonald corporation.

Bob Prieto is a senior executive shaping and executing business strategy and a recognized leader within the infrastructure, engineering and construction industries. His primary focus is on the development and delivery of large, complex projects and programs worldwide, consulting with owners across all market sectors in the development of programmatic delivery strategies. He is author of nine books including "Strategic Program Management", "The Giga Factor: Program Management in the Engineering and Construction Industry", "Application of Life Cycle Analysis in the Capital Assets Industry", "Capital Efficiency: Pull All the Levers" and, most recently, "Theory of Management of Large Complex Projects", as well as over 750 papers and presentations.

According to PMWJ editor David Pells, "Bob Prieto is a seasoned senior executive with 40 years of experience in the engineering and construction industries and a Fellow of CMAA, America's construction management professional body. His 2011 election to the National Academy of Construction was a recognition of both his reputation and his many contributions to the CM industry over the years. We are honored to welcome Bob to our honorary global advisory team."

Bob Prieto stated, "I have published a number of articles and papers in the PM World Journal and its predecessor PM World Today over the years. So I have become very familiar with David Pells, his editorial work and his professional knowledge. The journal is a reliable source of both new and practical knowledge and the library has become a very useful resource. I will be more than happy to support those continuing efforts going forward.”

Pells added, “Bob is very experienced with and knowledgeable about large, complex programs and projects in several industries around the world. His many papers for us over the years reflect that knowledge, providing useful information and perspective to managers in many organizations. He is widely known and respected in the US and international construction industry, which is also great for the PMWJ. I look forward to working even more closely with him now.”

PM World engages with recognized current and former industry and professional leaders in various countries to support the organization’s dual missions of advancing knowledge sharing and continuous learning related to modern program and project management.
