Teaching Philosophy

My philosophy of teaching is based on the belief that my students should be able to engage in conversations and involve them in interpersonal and interactive conversations with their fellow students. In addition, I promote critical thinking and train students to use language learning strategies which enhance their learning. Moreover, I do not rely on traditional methods, on the contrary, I prefer methods of brainstorming and presentations as time and conditions permit. I also support a culture of respect for each other. Besides, I integrate technology and present modern and heritage themes at the same time.
