

Help us understand Emirati fathers' identity, attitudes and beliefs regarding their role.

Congratulations, you will soon be a first-time dad! What an exciting time!!! The Teaching, Learning and Development Lab at New York University Abu Dhabi is looking for Emirati men who will be first-time fathers soon to learn about your beliefs and expectations regarding your role during the transition to parenthood.

You can enroll in the study when your wife is in the last trimester of pregnancy. The study includes a survey, interview, and play activities with your baby. A gift voucher of 100 AED will be provided for the first participation and an allowance of 150 AED for all subsequent times.

If you are interested in participating, scan the QR code to complete the survey or contact Shamsa Al-Suwaidi for further questions at:
