

Help us understand Emirati fathers' identity, attitudes and beliefs regarding their role.

Congratulations, you will soon be a first-time mom! What an exciting time!!! The Teaching, Learning and Development Lab at New York University Abu Dhabi is looking for young Emirati couples who will be first-time parents soon to learn about your beliefs and expectations regarding your role during the transition to parenthood.

You can enroll in the study together with your husband when you are in the last trimester of pregnancy. The study includes a survey for you, and for your husband a survey and interview.

If you are interested in participating, you can scan the QR code to complete the survey or contact Shamsa Al-Suwaidi for further questions at:
