POLICY & CONSULTING EXPERIENCE

Associate - Community Engagement Centre, Indus Hospital/Interactive Research & Development 2021-23

- Research advisor (pro-bono) to this non-profit engaging with urban and rural low-income communities in Sindh and Punjab provinces of Pakistan, focusing on community empowerment and public health.
- I successfully secured funds through the LSE Knowledge Exchange Fund (KEF) for translation and testing of research on the psychology of poverty through analysis of qualitative and quantitative data from Pakistani low-income contexts.

Steering Group Member, Psychology Of Social Class – UK Policy Implications (POSCUPI) 2021-

- Leading an initiative to examine the policy implications of the psychological study of social class and class-based inequalities in a UK context, advocating for the inclusion of social class in the Equality Act.
- Awarded funding from the British Psychological Society (BPS) to run a set of policy-oriented seminars throughout 2021-22. I hosted the first of these at the LSE in June 2022 featuring David Johnston MP (Chair of the All-Party Parliamentary Group on Social Mobility) and Dr Suriyah Bi (Founder of the Equality Act Review Campaign).
- Successfully campaigned to have the Priority Campaign for the BPS for 2022 centre on Tackling Social Class Inequalities, our proposal receiving the most votes among the BPS membership and the Senate.
- Co-authored a pioneering evidence review of the psychology of social class inequalities published by the BPS with media coverage on the BBC, The Daily Telegraph, and 8 other news outlets.

Poverty Expert Reference Group, British Psychological Society 2020

- Invited as an expert in the psychology of poverty to advise on advancing the BPS 2020-21 priority agenda, 'From Poverty to Flourishing';
- Co-authored two BPS policy briefings on the psychological dimensions of poverty, each of which featured my research.

Steering Group Member – Media & Social Norms Collaborator 2017-20

- Founding member of an initiative to bring academics and practitioners together to better inform mediated behavioural change interventions focused on social norms;
- Ran seminars including with the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, Population Foundation of India, Ashoka University Centre for Social & Behavior Change, Care International, Overseas Development Institute, Georgetown University, and Oxfam International.

Research Steering Group Member – International Alert 2015-16

- Contracted as a social psychology consultant on a Conflict, Stability & Security Fund (CSSF, UK Foreign & Commonwealth Office) project on the radicalisation of Syrian youth into joining armed groups.

Senior Strategic Analyst – Defence Science and Technology Laboratory, Ministry of Defence, UK 2007-2009

- Employed as a social psychologist in a multidisciplinary team, advising on the behavioural dimension of conflict and international security;
- Conducted self-directed research and development of novel areas of applied psychology, including quantitative & qualitative empirical studies for a range of stakeholders across UK Government.
- Project Manager of an initiative to improve the representation of human systems in high-level military training exercises; Technical Lead of a project applying social psychology to defence & security settings, entailing the management of a combined total of over £750,000.
- Seconded to operational work at the UK Ministry of Defence (Jan-Aug 2009) and Home Office, Office of Security and Counter-Terrorism (April-Aug 2009); promoted to Senior Strategic Analyst in May 2009.
